To benefit the Brain Injury Research Program lead by Dr. Gunjan Parikh at the R Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center at the University of Maryland.

Every year, millions of Americans suffer a traumatic brain injury (TBI) and struggle to recover with varying degrees of success or never regain consciousness. Effective treatment of TBI remains one of the greatest unmet needs in public health and emphasizes the need for further research. Your support will help fund Dr. Parikh's vital research to better understand TBI and ultimately develop an effective treatment.
